

unit project #1

the multimedia definitions project

Each theme in the course has multiple reading responses. At the end of a unit, there will be a culminating project. We will return to the conversations we have had, the readings we have done, and the writings we have laid down ... and then synthesize all of that in some way.

PROJECT #1 is a Multimedia Definitions Project. Use google presentation (you need a gmail account and google drive) to create slides for AT LEAST 3 key ideas/explanations of Black Rhetoric. Remember to use your own background. No pre-templated themes! Here are your requirements:

1. Highlight at least 3 key ideas/explanations of Black rhetoric. Explain each idea/definition in your own words and why you think this is important.
2. Give your presentation a good title.
3. Your slides must have a unique background image (not the pre-templated stuff or just a solid color) and other multimedia effects.
4. Send the link via D2L (if that works) or email this assignment to professorkynard@gmail.com by Friday, February 5.

Feel free to use your RRs and just paste what you have right into your google slides. For those of you who have not already presented, this gives you a good opportunity to play around with google slides.

Your Point-Spread for Project #1 (4 points)

Expectations	Check
1. I have highlighted at least 3 key ideas/explanations of Black rhetoric that are most important for me. I explained each definition in my own words, with detail description, and cultural/political analysis.
2. I have at least five slides (this can include cover and citation list). Each slide does something interesting with words, video, images, and/or weblinks. No slide has ONLY words on it is spatially empty. Images are weblinked to their source. Please Note: If you are doing this with a partner, you need at least 7 slides.
3. My overall google presentation is visually interesting and communicates a singular message somehow (in other words, it looks like one person did this work and is making a statement). I did NOT use the pre-packaged templates for the background. My background image matches my content and/or argument. I have an interesting title on front page slide. I used a traditional academic title (catchy phrase: description)
4. I included information from at least two articles/authors. I have also included the bibliographic information for images and texts.
